Where We Live + Where We Learn

Housing and Education Partnerships

March 5, 2015
Governor Inslee’s Results Washington...A Working Washington built on education and innovation where all Washingtonians thrive.  www.results.wa.gov

Governor’s outreach...in local communities; support for the whole child; the continuum of education; closing the Opportunity Gap; economy for all.

Cities...the best places to live, LEARN, work and play!

Collective Impact...occurs when organizations from different sectors agree to solve a specific social problem using a common agenda, aligning their efforts, and using common measures of success.

2015 Legislative Session...policy and budget proposals reflect our values. Ample, sustainable revenue.
Why we are Here

• Highlight best practices and innovative collaborations between housing authorities, school districts, non-profit housing developers, community organizations, and local jurisdictions.

• Encourage new partnerships between the education community and non-profit housing developers to address both housing and education challenges.
